Social Forestry and Organic Farming

- At AVA Healthcare, we believe that environmental health is deeply connected to human health. Our Social Forestry initiatives are dedicated to creating greener, healthier, and more sustainable communities by promoting tree plantation, forest conservation, and environmental awareness programs.
- Social forestry is more than planting trees—it's about empowering people, restoring ecosystems, and ensuring ecological balance for generations to come. Through community participation, corporate collaborations, and expert guidance, AVA Healthcare integrates sustainability into social responsibility.
